

Membership application instructions

Applicants with a BA degree for architecture studies within the EU

The following are approved study programmes:

- Architecture studies at KTH (the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm), LTH (Lund University Faculty of Engineering), the Chalmers University of Technology or the Umeå School of Architecture.
- Landscape architect studies at SLU (the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences) Alnarp or SLU Ultuna.
- Spatial planning studies at the Blekinge Institute of Technology.
- Interior architect studies at Konstfack (the University College of Arts, Crafts and Design).
- Architecture and Technology studies at the Chalmers University of Technology.
- Design studies at HDK (the School of Design and Crafts), provided the applicant's studies include an adequate amount of specialisation in architecture (which also requires postgraduate studies).
- All EU study programmes corresponding to any of the above.

Note that if you are still taking any of these study programmes after gaining your BA, you are to apply for student membership, not active membership. As a student member with a BA degree, you will be automatically admitted to active membership when you have taken your Master's or professional diploma, or if you discontinue your architecture studies before doing so.

Documents to be appended to your application:

- A legalised copy of your degree certificate. If you have pursued further studies since taking your BA and have completed them, a degree certificate or course matriculation certificate is also to be appended accordingly.
- HDK applicants must also send in a conspectus of awards (betygsutdrag) or a certificate showing that the studies have had an architectural emphasis.

Your application will be processed by: the Secretariat

Applicants with degrees from, or having mostly completed studies in, a pre-existing architecture study programme of at least four years duration:

Applicants having completed a pre-existing study programme and, consequently, not having gained their BA must to all intents and purposes have completed their studies. In cases of this kind, accordingly, three years' studies will not be sufficient qualification for admission to membership. Membership can on the other hand be granted if only a minor portion of the study programme remains to be completed and you have become professionally active as an architect.

Documents to be appended to your application:

- A legalised copy of your degree certificate or conspectus of awards (betygsutdrag).

Your application will be processed by: the Secretariat

Applicants with architecture qualifications from non-EU countries:

In order for the Swedish Association of Architects to be able to consider your membership application, you must first submit your studies for assessment by the Swedish Council for Higher Education. The documents to be appended are enumerated on www.uhr.se.

Depending on the content of your education, further attachments may also be required; see below, "Applicants with other academic education."

Documents to be appended to your application:

- A statement from the Swedish Council for Higher Education.

- Legalised copies of degree certificate, syllabus and conspectus of awards (betygsutdrag), in the original language and accompanied by Swedish translations.
- Any other documents you wish to adduce in support of your applications, e.g. certificates of professional activity or a list of referees.

Your application will be processed by: the Secretariat or the Membership Committee, depending on the content of your education.

Applicants with other academic education:

Applicants lacking formal architect training must have some other form of academic education and must be able to show that, through this education or any other education, or in some other way, they have acquired knowledge equalling a BA degree from one of the Swedish architecture study programmes.

Documents to be appended to our application:

- Legalised copies of degree certificates and/or conspectuses of awards (betygsutdrag) from your academic studies.
- Certificates of any other relevant studies.
- Any other certificates you wish to adduce in support of your applications, e.g. certificates of professional activity or a list of referees.
- Applicants for interior architect membership must append material demonstrating free artistic ability.

Your application will be processed by: the Membership Committee
